GO1 Premium content subscription can address multiple pain points for L&D teams:

Providers regularly update their resources, so you always access the most up-to-date materials.

Complete freedom to choose from across 50+ content providers' libraries.

Integrates with any LMS and configures with existing HRM systems.

Value for money, with a low annual cost per user, to access all Premium resources.

Training is targeted for different geographies - local, regional and global.

24-hour customer support from our global support team.

How is GO1 different from other training providers?

A new and better way to train your team

As the world's largest marketplace of training, we provide you with instant access to thousands of training resources, sourced from the best content providers in the world, in our platform or yours. Add GO1 Premium directly to your current LMS and get learning faster!

Our model is different

We are a training aggregator – we don't produce any training ourselves. This is a fundamentally different model from a typical provider. As an aggregator, we can be a single source for our customers to utilise training from a variety of high-quality training providers.

We are constantly adding new courses

As an aggregator, we can also grow our offering faster than any training course provider can. GO1 Premium – our subscription offering, with thousands of online training courses for a single price – is expanding all the time. But customers keep paying the same price.

Ready to get started with GO1 Premium?
